PLENTY OF PAUPERS.

ST. LOUIS FORCED TO RECEIVE THE POOR OF OTHER CITIES.

How They Are Sent Here and Are Left on the Hands of the City Government—A Headless Department—The Beard Knocks Under—Freelance Changes—Assembly Meetings—Municipal Matters.

The city of St. Louis is being flooded with the sick and poor of all the surrounding country. Being the terminal point of dozens of railroads and a way station between all points East and West and North and South, all the cities and towns for hundreds of miles around send their sick and poor as far as St. Louis, to go the rest of the way to their various destinations as best they can. Every traveling passenger goes to the Mayor's office. In the majority of cases they are sent by the Mayor of the town from whence they came, and as a natural result go to the Mayor as soon as their tickets give out. For the past three weeks there have been from three to a dozen of them waiting in the morning about the doors and halls of the City Hall. They all tell the same story and they all want to go somewhere else. The city cannot send them, and even if it does get them back in a very short time. No municipal government likes paupers, and to save the expense of keeping them sends them somewhere else. In this section of the country St. Louis is the easiest place to send them to, and St. Louis they go. Cincinnati, Terre Haute, Indianapolis, Cleveland, Kansas City and a number of the big cities are given to this practice and contribute largely to St. Louis' burden of indigent and aged citizens.

They Crawfished.

The Beard of Public Improvements has made a concession which is in a measure a victory for J. W. Peters, the fish dealer at the French Market, and which will allow the Broadway line to be built at that point. The board at a special meeting yesterday afternoon withdrew from the statute it had taken and now members have an opportunity to get more information on the subject.

The postmen bridge bill was laid over until the 1st of October. In the House the bill was introduced by Mr. W. N. Peters brought injunction proceedings and had the work there stopped. Every effort was made to overturn the bill, but without avail. The work has now reached a point where further delays would be very costly, so the board was persuaded to withdraw the bill. The board has now decided to let the tracks to go down so that they shall be squared from either side of the street.

Without a Head.

The Street Department will shortly be without a head and will for about twenty days be compelled to get along as best it can unless the Council turns to and approves some one of the Mayor's nominations. Mr. Hanchenbach, the sanitarian and acting commissioner, has been doing double duty ever since Mr. Burnett resigned to take the office of President of the board. In consequence of his long absence he has been left in charge of the department, and decided to ask the Mayor for a leave of absence for twenty days. The Mayor gladly granted it, especially as Mr. Rauschenbach's record for forty years in the department was not at all creditable. Every day in the department will be brought up to date and a few signed blanks left in the hands of the secretary for emergency cases.

More Complications.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Council held a meeting for the purpose of hearing arguments concerning the pending contracts for city printing, but did not make a report to the Council last night. A copy of a newspaper in the Evening Call, or rather one of the owners of the paper, said that Mr. Bell and Mr. W. P. Macklin were heard Mr. Macklin said he represented the Evening Call, and that the other interest in the paper, and that he wanted the lowest bid accepted. Mr. Bell said that he looked rather queer for the reason that he did not make such a demand, as it was not the rule for a business establishment to ask for a lower price than it intended to offer. The failure of the Call to qualify on a former contract was spoken of and the matter thoroughly discussed but no decision announced.

Mr. W. P. Macklin's statement was not because of failures of various kinds are still in the hands of last year's contractors.

167 Precincts.

The ordinance subdividing a number of voting precincts in the city has become a law, and the signed document was read by the Mayor at the Council last night. There are now 167 precincts in the city, which was the number before. Recorder of Voters Henry W. Williams said this was morning and said: "I am not yet prepared to file the bill. What we want above all the work we have taken all of the names in the precincts which have been divided, and sorted them out, and then have the names at hand for transferring them to separate books. The books or stalls for the Australian system are being delivered directly from the manufacturer in the foreign places, where they will be stored until election time. The voters in the new precincts would do well to ascertain this time where their new polling place is, so as not to get confused on election day."

About half of the 600 booths contracted for are already delivered.

The Assembly.

The Council and House of Delegates both held brief sessions last night. In the Council the contracts made by the Mayor and Health Commissioner for the cremation of garbage were submitted to the Committee on Sanitary Affairs.

The bill for changing the grades in the vicinity of Rock Island and Walnut Street was withdrawn from the Senate. Mr. W. N. Peters brought injunction proceedings and had the work there stopped. Every effort was made to overturn the bill, but without avail. The work has now reached a point where further delays would be very costly, so the board was persuaded to withdraw the bill. The board has now decided to let the tracks to go down so that they shall be squared from either side of the street.

Taken From Tom Ward.

Two teams and three wagons are now being kept at Bon's stables which, up to day, and are Mayor Noonan was elected, were the sermons for city horses took place, upon the Mayor's election, Ward, among others, gave the teams and wagons of the Water department to the other departments and county offices. All went well for a while, until Mr. W. N. Peters began to inspect the horses. He was not satisfied, and last week a wagon was sent for the Water department. The Board Inspector had taken it out for the use of his department.

Mourses a Biscuit and a Ring.

Mr. Annie Hirshbaum of 1114 North High street placing great confidence in the honesty of a strange jewelry peddler who said his name was Blum gave him a gold bracelet and a gold ring, two family heirlooms, to repair. She has not seen him since.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vanities to have a remedy to please the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Among these qualities, there are some one partied, inactive and most gentle diuretic known.

A DEPARTMENT ROMANCE,

The Suicide of Mrs. Jessie Reed Conkling at Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—Another de#### partment romance has just culminated in a tragedy.

On Saturday a prominent woman named Mrs. Jessie Reed Conkling, formerly of Philadelphia, took a dose of morphine in a boarding-house.

and notwithstanding the hard

through the night, she died on Sunday afternoon.

As it was insisted that #### she took an overdose of the drug

by mistake, but later developments make it

very certain that she desired to kill herself.

Her doctor seemed to think her death was due to the curious circumstance, for #### she cut him up.

IN THE INTEREST OF SCIENCE,

Weather forecast for twenty-four hours, beginning at 8 a.m. to-day, for St. Louis: Fair; stationary temperature.

The Exposition speaks for itself.

The Republican campaign in Arkansas was exceedingly effective from a Democratic standpoint.

The Republicans are on the run, and judging from their strides Salvator will have to look to his laurels before November.

A TRIP to St. Louis within the next forty days would give the Chicago World's Fair directory a good idea of what an exposition should be.

There is still an excellent chance for a successful World's Fair if the directory should conclude to merge the enterprise in the St. Louis Exposition of 1892.

It is unfortunate that voters cannot rebuke a Democratic gerrymander by re-electing McKinley without indorsing by their acts Republican gerrymander.

What will the country gain by the defeat of Cannon in the Eighteenth Illinois District if we send Jim Butler to Congress to represent the Ninth Missouri District?

The Jefferson Barracks Improvement bill would be an excellent thing for Representative Kinsey to carry to his constituents as a recommendation for re-election.

The crying need of St. Louis is school room, but there appears to be little likelihood of having it supplied until there is a new School Board. That is the greatest need at present.

We regret that visitors to St. Louis this fall will have to put up with the old Union Depot, but we take pleasure in announcing that there is a first-class prospect of a new and commodious depot by next fall.

The Philadelphia Times, after a careful survey of the Pennsylvania campaign, estimates that the majority for Pattison in the State now is not less than 50,000. It would not be safe to bet, however, on more than 75,000 in November.

CONGRESSMAN KINSEY's first (and last) term in Congress has been in every way creditable to him, but he was elected by a local Democratic blunder two years ago, and he will be defeated now by the national Republican blunder with which he is identified.

GENTLEMEN who left the Democratic party on the tariff question in 1888, and who gave their money freely to elect St. Louis Congressmen who would protect home labor, should not permit themselves to be caught in the act of importing foreign contract labor contrary to law.

A few ripples of the Democratic tidal wave have even reached far-off Vermont. Democratic gains in the State vote and the doubling of Democratic legislators show that even the rock-ribbed Republicanism of Vermont cannot stand Realism and Quasimodo as made known in the present administration.

KINSEY says Congress will adjourn about October 1, after passing a tariff bill with the Aldrich reciprocity amendment. He adds that he has not studied Blaine's reciprocity scheme enough to express an opinion about it. He studied it enough last February, however, to exclude it from his tariff bill.

If the reaction in favor of Democracy which promises to sweep the country does not benefit the Democratic party of this city it will be the fault of St. Louis Democrats who are allowing the rowdies and boozers to control the nomination of candidates. Republican Representatives from St. Louis in a Democratic House will emphasize the humiliation of the respectable elements of the party.

ONE attraction of the Exposition which will be entirely new to the public will be the spectacle of one of the Post-Dispatch presses at work. The press is located in the machinery department downstairs, immediately north of the east or Thirtieth street entrance. Every afternoon it will print off a part of the regular edition of the Post-Dispatch in full view of the public, and at intervals during the day will print for the public benefit and for gratuitous distribution to visitors a special issue of four page size, which in addition to the programme of the concerts will contain a variety of interesting reading matter, and will be a valuable addition to the resources of the Exposition.

A SCHOOL BOARD SCANDAL.

The experience of the last six months has shown that through the inattention of voters at school elections, our School Board is liable to fall into the hands of dicing ward politicians, and become a mere arena for their faction fights over "jobs with money in them." That has been the disgraceful occupation of the present board ever since its election, and its meetings have been as disorderly as the proceedings of a hoodlum caucus in a rowdy quarter.

It was warned in time by the reports of Supt. LONG and President JUDSON that more than twenty new rooms would be needed by the 1st of September to accommodate the rapidly increasing school population of the city. But it paid no attention to real School Board business, spent the spring and summer months in faction fights and wrangles over repair jobs and heating apparatus contracts and free books, and now the schools are in session again without the necessary room or the free books either. Thousands of children are kept away by want of room and other thousands are taken in on half time only. The classes are in an unsettled and demoralized condition, waiting for School Board action that should have been taken long ago, and the school work must be retarded, no one knows how long, by building and repairing operations which should have been completed during the vacation.

The situation emphasizes the importance of two much needed reforms—a closer attention to school elections by voters, and a responsible comptrollership of the school funds, authorized and empowered by law to prevent the expenditure of a single dollar by the board, until ample appropriations have been set apart to provide for needed school room and tutors.

The Democrats have plenty of men who can carry the Ninth District and represent it with credit to themselves, their party and the great city of St. Louis. If they do not nominate such a man their failure and defeat will be palpably due to the degenerate leadership and demoralizing bosses imposed on their party organization during the last four years. A Republican House has outblundered its Democratic predecessor so far as to insure a Democratic majority in the next House, and if St. Louis does not hold a leading position in that majority—if she is to be the only great city of the Union represented by a Republican delegation in a Democratic House—it will be so because the local Democratic organization has forfeited the respect of her people and disgraced the mass of Democratic voters.

THE WAS THERE some basis for a political revolution on State issues in Arkansas, and the coalition of the Republicans with the Farmers and Laborers' Union seemed perfect and strong enough to effect it. But not in the face of such issues as the dominant party in the present Congress has pushed to the front. Increased taxation, enormous appropriations and the force bill dwarfed all State issues and paralyzed the coalition. When the Republican party is so torn up over its own measures that it loses Ohio and Iowa and is even threatened with the loss of Pennsylvania, it cannot expect to carry any Democratic States, and it is mere cant to pretend that they are carried by Democratic fraud and bulldozing.

DESPITE the friendly visit of the Kaiser to the Czar and the exchanges of peace pledges another war speech has been projected on the European horizon by the latter. The Russians are said to be massing forces on the Armenian frontier with a view to taking possession of the province on the ground of the necessary protection of the Christians from Turkish atrocities. Imperial friendships do not interfere with imperial plans.

The President of Venezuela Punishes a Few for Having Libelled Him.

FOLLOWERS of Barrundia Threaten to Kill Minister Mizner on Sight.

CITY OF CARACAS, Venezuela, Sept. 8.—The President of Venezuela has just issued a decree punishing several editions of newspapers who have been adjudged as having libelled him and other public functionaries. After a long preamble, states forth the laws of the country, the decree continues:

"Executive notice must be taken of the newspapers called Le Sonde, El Independiente and El Obrero, whose editors and proprietors have been guilty of calumny against the President of the Republic and other high public functionaries in their character as magistrates, as well as having calumniated the integrity of the President's household. Therefore, because of these acts, order for arrest is issued herewith for the Editor Felix Matos Bernier, Luis Cabral and Francisco Gonzalez Marin, Spanish subjects, comprising the editorial staff of La Semana; Juan Caronel, editor of El Obrero, a Colombian citizen; Manuel Avila Blanco, Venezuelan, editor of the El Independiente, and Manuel Marquez and Eduardo Diez of the editorial staff of La Guillotina. The President of the Republic, with affirmative votes of the Federal Council, decries that the Spanish subjects, Felix Matos Bernier, Luis Cabral and Francisco Gonzalez Marin and the Colombian citizen, Juan Coronel, shall be placed on board the first steamer leaving this country for foreign parts from the port of La Dura. The Governor of the Federal districts will place the Venezuelan citizens, Manuel Avila Blanco, Manuel Marquez and Eduardo Diez, under arrest, so that they may be judged by the courts and sentenced for the crimes they have committed, all to be done in conformity with the law."

The Attack on Mizner.

CITY OF GUATEMALA, Sept. 8.—United States Minister Mizner, narrowly escaped being killed by a daughter of Gen. Martin Barandia in the cabin of the steamship Acapulco. Gen. Barandia was killed last week on board of the American steamer San Jose, while resisting the Guatemala officers, who were trying to arrest him. The blame of the General's death was laid at the door of the United States Minister, and it was averred that his daughter shot at Minister Mizner. He was seated in the cabin transcribing a guarantee from the Governor that Barandia's life would be spared if he was surrendered, when the young woman entered. She stood before him with a revolver in her hand and asked him to let her go. He replied quietly that he was and asked if he could be of any service. She then accused him of being the direct cause of her father's death, and dropped upon him a shower of Spanish invectives and finally fired at him. He had quickly picked up a heavy law book and held it directly in front of the muzzle of the pistol. The book saved his life. Before another shot could be fired the pistol was taken from the young woman and she was removed. The Minister refused to institute any attempt at violence to prevent M. Mizner's election.

M. Clemenceau's Denial.

CARACAS, Sept. 8.—Count Herbert Bismarck is expected to arrive in this city shortly. It is reported that his visit is made for the purpose of making inquiries as to whether Prince Bismarck (his father) could sojourn for a while at Nice without fear of hostile demonstration being made against him.

Minister Mizner's Friends are urging him to abandon the city if he would save his life. The followers of Gen. Barandia threaten to kill him on sight. The failure of the attempt of Barrundia's daughter to shoot Mizner seems only to have whetted their appetite for what they call revenge. Up to the present Mr. Mizner shows no signs of accepting the advice of his friends, to flee the city, but the almost open threats of assassination have frightened him and the legislature is constantly guarded by squads of policemen.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.—The telegram of Transits Hurtarte, wife of Gen. Barrundia, was received by President Harrison and referred to the State Department for investigation and report. The State Department is awaiting advice by mail.

The Road Was in Condition to Fight Successfully—Master Workman Lee Did Not Head the Chief of the Knights of Labor—Interesting Correspondence—The State Board of Arbitration Investigation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The letters from Lee to Powderly and from Powderly to Lee, which were presented at the hearing of the New York Central strike before the State Board of Arbitration, follow, in extenso. The first is from Lee to Powderly:

"I want to trouble you a little at this time. We are having a very serious time in New York; the New York Central Corporation are crowding us out, laying off men right and left, and the word of it is, that the men who have been promoting the best interests of the organization are the ones selected for dismissal. It looks to me as if the company wants to have the men strike at this time in order to break up the organization; it would be a very easy matter for them to defeat us now, as there is nothing doing on the road. I have received notice to-day that my services are no longer required by the company, and a few others who were at different times before the officers of the company while acting as representatives of the organization, have been let go also. About half the members of the order are anxious to strike, while the other half are more conservative. I would be very much pleased if some of the members of the General Executive Board could come over here and give the men some advice, as it is something they are very much in need of just now. I hope that I can write to you a letter to-morrow.

"My advice is to go to canvas, feel your way carefully and secure yourselves in your footholds firmly before stepping into uncharted depths in order to secure more advantage. Remember that you are coping with one of the greatest corporations in America and that it can bring to its aid, in a struggle, millions of dollars where organized labor cannot bring as many cents. Avoid controversy as far as possible and protect yourselves with facts, indisputable facts, if ever you have to say for anything. You are no rash counsele to sway men in anything and do not place headstrong or intemperate men on any committee.

"At the conclusion of Mr. Stevens' testimony, Gen. Pryor announced that he had no objection to the Knights of Labor using his name and office. He is a good man, and I hope that he will be able to help us. I have a better position than ever before, and I hope to get him to accept my offer. I am sending him a letter to-morrow.

THEY DON'T LIKE IT.

SOUTH ST. LOUIS REPUBLICANS WANTED
BARTHOLD INSTEAD OF KINSEY.

The Defeated Candidate Will Support the Nominees, but Will Not Make Any Speeches in the Campaign—Ninth District Democrats Still Looking for a Candidate to Run Against Butler—Political Matters.

When Congressman Kinsey is informed of the state of feeling in the city portion of his district on his renomination he will undoubtedly feel somewhat alarmed and urge an early adjournment to enable him to devote his entire time to his political interests in the district. He won a signal victory at De Soto over the opposition through the strong support of the country delegates, greatly to the disgust of the city delegates, who with but a few exceptions went to the convention certain of their ability to carry Barthold through safely. They expected a hard fight, but they did not anticipate defeat. Their argument that without the Republican vote of the southern wards, the Democratic candidate would have a walk-over did not avail. They likewise declared that the Fifth, Seventh, Ninth, Eleventh, Thirteenth, and the portions of the Twenty-third and Twenty-seventh wards lying in the district did not want Mr. Kinsey, but the delegates from Democratic Southwestern Missouri remained firm in their demand for their choice.

The city delegates returned disgruntled and indignant. They denounced St. Louis County for not standing firm for Barthold. The twenty-three delegates from that strong Republican county went un instructed, but were counted a unit by Barthold's friends. The Seventh Ward was instructed for Barthold, but three of the ten delegates voted for Kinsey. All of the other city delegates excepting Louis Grund of the Eleventh Ward, who was un instructed, voted for Barthold's delegate, opposed Kinsey. Grund, it appears, voted for Kinsey on the theory that Filley was fighting him and in favor of Barthold.

HOW BARTHOLD TAKES IT.
Mr. Barthold was seen this morning in the editorial rooms of his paper, De Soto. When questioned as to what action he takes in respects and displeased in others. "The St. Louis County delegation disappointed me in their action," he said. "I expected the entire vote, but some influence went to work in the delegation and upset the calculations of my friends. It was half the delegates for me, but the ones which furnish the heavy Republican vote stood by me nobly and that is one of the very pleasing features of the race. It is true that in the Eleventh Ward, where I was ignored in instructions and voted the other way, but I don't care to say much on that subject." Mr. Barthold, who is an attorney, took the place of Mr. Kinsey and voted for Mr. Kinsey under the wrongfull impression that I was Mr. Filley's candidate. I went into the race, the party had no particular cause. My South St. Louis friends wanted me to make the race and I went in and made a legitimate, earnest effort to do so. The pleasing part is that the delegates from the Democratic counties forced the strong Republican city wards to take a man they did not want. I had the satisfaction of seeing the names of the men in the district, as the newspaper accounts show. Such Republicans as J. E. Whittle, Judge of Probate, Joseph W. R. Calton of Marion, Joseph W. Clegg of St. Francois, Judge Newsome of Jefferson and F. W. Mott, V. B. S. Reher and Collector Ziegelmeyer all supported me in the nomination. My friend experienced success and I looked for it myself. It is a Republic to support the nomination."

"We will not take such active parts in the campaign for good reasons, but will support the nominating ticket."

ZIEGELMAYER DISPLASED.
Collector Ziegelmeyer was not at all pleased. He found himself in company with some of his South St. Louis friends, who had no action in the convention. Mr. Ziegelmeyer said: "I am sorry that conventions in behalf of Mr. Barthold were held in the city part of the district, which, as everybody knows, gives a very large Republican vote. I also urged Mr. Barthold to nominate him, as he is the strongest person mentioned for the nomination, and I still think so. What am I going to do about it? Well, I'll support the Republicans in the contest for the nomination."

Some of the South St. Louis Republicans are feeling very bitter and are threatening to secede. Mr. Kinsey's followers in the lower wards have been instrumental for Mr. Kinsey because of his refusal to endorse their idol for the Post-office. They all declare, however, that Filley took no part, active or passive, in the contest for the nomination.

Butler Still the Only Candidate.

Ninth District Democratic leaders are still looking for a candidate to pit against Jim Butler. There is an impression that if one or more strong Democratic manifest a desire to run enough influence can be brought to bear on Ed Butler to induce him to withdraw his name. But the party leaders are not so sanguine as to believe that he will do this, but upon that beautiful island of Cuba."

"What is the feeling of Mexico toward the present General Salvador embroil?" asked the reporter.

"The Mexicans want peace. We are progressing wonderfully. We have a magnificent army, and we have a fine navy, and we have an orchestra which would compare favorably with any you have here, and then we have the prettiest houses imaginable. Mr. C. Steedman is spending a great deal of time in Mexico City, and he is doing well there, but upon that beautiful island of Cuba."

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Engena H. Cowles, son of the late editor of the Cleveland Leader, who was shot by his brother-in-law, Cleve Hale, in Montreal last June, when Cowles' wife was seeking to recover her child, has now brought two suits for $100,000 each in the Supreme Court for damages against his father-in-law, E. C. Hale, the banker of Cleveland, and C. C. Hale, his brother-in-law. The claim is made against E. Hale that he was a party to the shooting (Cowles calls it attempted murder) of the plaintiff in Montreal last June, and is also charged with defrauding Mr. Cowles' son, George, by employing and conspiring with certain technicians in New York to manufacture and devise a false accusation of adultery against Cowles.

THE CHEROKEE STRIP.

Cattle Men Pending for an Extension of Time.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 5.—President Edward Kawley of the Cherokee Strip Live Stock Association is in the city. To a reporter to-day he said that strenuous efforts are being made to influence the President to extend the time set for the evacuation of the Cherokee Strip by the cattlemen two months, or until December 1.

"If the President's order goes into effect by October first," said he, "it will necessitate during the next twenty-six days the rush of cattle to market, and will result in a great loss to the market, which will virtually stop the effect of running the price of cattle down to a great deal lower than the market has been up to date. It will bring panic and stop business for a considerable length of time. Every Representative in Congress from Kansas, besides the Senator, has signed the bill, which has been presented to President Harrison. Secretary of Agriculture Ranch has also interceded in our behalf."

Girls.

By HELEN ERNEST STARKETT, in The Journal.

"Thousands who are now in shops and other organized industries would really prefer work in homes, if only the heavy, grimy, malodorous, clothes-treating work of cooking and laundering were not required and expected of them."

Well—if this is true there's a good time coming for girls and the mistress too; for women (by millions) are coming to know that Pearline saves the clothes on your back as well as the clothes in the wash; the paint on your walls—the sheen of silver—the lustre of glass and reduces the labor—drudgery—health breaking—temper and comfort wearing work of washing and cleaning to almost nothing.

Besides—the girl—the mistress—or both—are better satisfied with the results. It cleanses—restores original colors—but hurts nothing, not even delicate skin—luxurious for bathing—be among the bright ones and use Pearline.

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends it back, see JAMES PYLE, New York.

Sensational Suit Brought by Mr. McLaughlin Against Mr. Burkhardt.

BURKALO, N. Y., Sept. 2.—A decided sensation was created in society and business circles to-day by the announcement that papers had been filed in the Supreme Court in a suit for $10,000 damages, brought by John F. McLaughlin against Edward G. Burkhardt for criminal intimacy with and alienating the affections of the plaintiff's wife, Myra McLaughlin. The plaintiff was until recently a Post-office clerk and Buffalo manager of the Elmira Telegram, and the defendant is a member of the firm of McLaughlin & Burkhardt, and is quite wealthy. The complaint charges that the defendant by force seduced the plaintiff's wife in October, 1887, and by dint of threats and intimidation continued his conduct during the intimacy for a period of two years. Mrs. McLaughlin has confessed, and has made a full and frank admission of what she did to her husband. She further avers that cards are out for the marriage of Burkhardt and Miss Laura Smith, daughter of Anthony Smith, a well-known and wealthy citizen.

Bold Operations of an Organized Gang Near South Bend, Ind.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 3.—The farmers of St. Joseph County, in the vicinity of South Bend, have complained over the lawless and daring operations of wheat thieves, who have been doing their work for the last few weeks. The boldness of the robbers is surprising. About a week since, on one of the avenues of the city, early in the morning, thirteen sacks of wheat were piled up on the sidewalk. An investigation showed that the wheat belonged to a dairyman living a short distance in the country. No one to whom the grain was found. Making their way to the grain elevator of Mr. Carpenter and stole a team of gray horses, a wagon and forty-five bushels of wheat. The horses were loaded and a search revealed the wheat sacked and nicely piled and just out of the city limits. Tracks in the road led to the grain elevator and the grain was discovered to be Michigan. Soon after the wheat was discovered a suspicious-looking character was seen hanging around Carpenter's place. He was arrested and while being held in his pockets he was found to have in his pockets a bag containing $11,000. But nothing definite can be learned from him.

THE BASIS OF A SUIT.

Indiana's State Treasurer Refuses to Pay the Governor His Salary.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 2.—Gov. Hovey sent to the Treasurer of the State yesterday for an installment of his salary, but the official replied that it could not be paid and stated that he was compelled by law to hold the funds in his possession subject to the demands of the benevolent institutions, there being only enough money now in the Treasury to pay their running expenses till funds were due from the counties. The Governor will make no claim for his salary, but will file a suit against the Treasurer on the ground that the law is unconstitutional and discriminates against the creditors of the State and in favor of benevolent institutions.

REAL ESTATE NEWS.*HOW VALUES HAVE BEEN INCREASED BY ELECTRIC AND CABLE ROADS.

Present Prices on Rapid Transit Lines Including Speculation and Investment in the New Territory Between Boston Avenue and the Natural Bridge Road, Where Electric Roads Will Also Be Operated—Sales of the Day.

Rapid transit facilities into the western and southwestern districts the vicinity of Forest and Tower Grove Parks have resulted in the sale and re-selling of so many large tracts of property at good round advances with each recurring transaction that values in those districts have reached such a figure that speculators who want to operate in real estate cheap enough to meet the popular demand have been driven into a new field, and the way it is being worked promises rich returns for investors who will profit from that they have done in the development of sections not overlooked by cable or electric roads. Newspaper readers know when the first cable, the Locust street line, with the Narrow Gauge connection has done in converting the meadows and garden patches into handsomely improved and well populated residence places, for who does not remember that Clemens place, West Cabanne, Hamilton and Bartmer places, West Cabanne and Chamberlain park were not only fields and pasture lands five years ago. Ground there which sold slowly at an average of $8 a foot is now in high demand at $35 to $50 a foot, and more than the latter price for some of the choice business corners. Before the Olive street cable was laid the whole territory along that route west of Vandeventer was vacant space where no one could see a promise of a quick return on anything purchasable. Yet before the cars commenced running a brisk demand for lots sprung up all along the line, an immense amount of property changed, building operations followed and lots and large plots then selling at $15 to $30 a foot commenced advancing, and have kept on going up with the constant addition of building improvements, until now nothing near the line is to be had for less than $50 a foot, and in many places the figures asked range from $75 to $125 a foot, over $200 being asked for King's highway sites.

West of that and along the north side of Forest Park, even the old cleared land is now in great demand and is sold the broad acres in there so often at advancing prices that nothing is left in there save of Delmar place, which is still a good deal of property, $100 a foot, and more than that has been paid for large parcels by parties who will realize a profit on that figure, or the Lindbergh place, which has been sold for $1,000 a foot for all the property which but very few people could see any money in until tracks for the rapid transit began running in late April.

Along the line of the Peacock cable to Tower Grove Park the advance in prices has been equally great and the demand for property has increased with the sale of the first place auction last June when $6,500 was paid for a piece of ground 40x60 feet, $1,112.29 within two afternoons. It was nearly impossible to sell this property, and the buyers were compelled to wait for a new electric line which was in operation, until now a very large portion of it is being graded and seawed on an expensive scale which will compare favorably with Forest Park, and property on the west end of Tyler place along Tower Grove avenue the Missouri Railroad Co. has its tracks ready for a new electric line which is in operation. The improvement of the electric and other means of transportation has already had a marked effect upon the value of Tyler place which has been sold for $1,000 a foot, and conservative experts on values say ground will be selling in Tyler within a year at three times the auction prices paid.

BANKERS IN CONFERENCE

THE ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION AT SARATOGA.

A Large Number of Representative Financial Men of the United States Present—President Charles Parsons' Address, Treating of All Important Financial Matters, Particularly the Silver Question—Interesting Papers Read.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 4.—The annual convention of the American Bankers Association began shortly before noon in the Town Hall auditorium. A large number of the representative financial men of the United States were present. After the opening exercises the President, Charles Parsons, President of the State Bank of St. Louis, delivered his annual address, which was as follows:

Again, gentlemen of the American Bankers' Association, for the seventh time we are assembled at a place where our organization first came into existence, and we have been seen by our Executive Council here must be peculiar and strong; for, however liberal the money which has been bestowed upon us elsewhere, and certainly upon us here, we have—generously—we seem to find our way back to these highlands of New York, to this old place. It may be that it is the design of our Executive Council to bring us here to this revolutionary battle-ground, where, in these dark hours of our struggle, we may find a refuge from a battle, which, for its far-reaching results, must be conceded to have been one of the most important in history. We have come again with patriotic ardor, to baptize our institutions in silver; it is a proper bribe, and an additional interest to the location.

I proceed to have heard a lady ask a child whether her father and mother were talking about an animated manner. "Oh," she replied, "money, money; always money." She asked me, "What do we go with? Whomsoever we converse, it is always that is the absorbing topic. Perhaps never in the world's history was it so much so as now; most sought for, and its pursuit the great object of life for the entire civilized world. The merchant in his store, the banker in his land, and even the clergy, seeking a more lucrative call for the exercise of their studies, all seek the golden dollar. The desire of knight errantry, in which the pampered chivalry of the world went forth to do battle with the forces of darkness, and from persecution or peril to help the weak against the strong, are long since past, and the knightly deeds of those days are buried in oblivion.

The era of religious devotion, when vast numbers of men and women spent their lives in meditation and prayer, thinking and meditating over the divine, passing their time in devout aspirations or ecstatic visions, either dwelling in the depths of the soul, or resting on the heights of the mount of hope and purity, is also gone, and we seem to have come down to an age of sober fact, material progress, in short, the day of the money-lender. Who can question how far this chase for money is warranted, whether we are not setting up a deity of mammon, and the sooner the better? The world is a devil, who may turn out to be a devil that will tear and rend us. I remember to have seen, many years ago, a book which urged the importance of saving every cent, and argued that, in view of making it of use to others. No country can prosper, no nation can view in the tempestuous pursuit of gain, but too soon the mind is wholly absorbed in the pursuit and forgets the proper end in the race for wealth.

But it is now our especial and immediate business to consider pecuniary matters, and we must therefore be dimmed in the parlour of the bank, and pay our dues and reason about money and currency.

There is no subject that is so important to our national welfare, and so vital to the government, as that of the money of the country. A bad currency can do more harm in a year than the march of an invading army; it is our immense system of credit. One of the greatest misfortunes of the South which confronted its people at the end of the late war was the want of a good currency, credit and banking system. All had to be reconstructed on the rules of almost complete bankruptcy, and the amount of money available for the conduct of business was so small that no calamity like this shall be allowed to come on any country except under circumstances which overrule all pecuniary considerations. In this we must bear in mind that no mode of conducting business can be found available that does not contemplate payment of balance, and clearing houses come at last to a point when cash must go to liquidate balances, and now a point which interests vast numbers of the American people seems to be in what medium shall these be liquidated; shall it be in gold, or in silver, or in some other metal?

On the 1st of August, 1890, we have the destruction to the respondent,

of the heavenly world,

was done for whom he seemed to have no love, but when this Damas was trying to lead off those devout minded persons, who were wont to go on pilgrimage, with the intent that he had found a sain-mine, and his efforts seemed made to persuade them to seek for this white metal of which it is plainly intimated that in this yielding to temptation they were in greater danger of arriving to ultimate point antip-athy, for which they set out.

Bunyan was a strong believer in the golden city with its golden streets, and I suppose if there was one there would have much more to do with the salvation of his friends who is disposed to advocate the Demas side of this question and consequently to give up the cross. He is induced to think the major part of our frailty lies in the color of this metal or coin currency; but I am sure that the constant influx of foreigners who are to be found in this country against the one currency in favor of the other, except as its members suppose to one more suitable to discharge the functions of money in the grand commercial world than the other; such I understand to be the attitude of the association of bankers, and Chicago, as a last resort, to this discussion.

The Merchants' Terminal Road Scores a Point Against the Missouri Pacific.

The case of the Merchants' Terminal versus the Missouri Pacific Railroad came up yesterday in the Circuit Court at St. Charles, having been sent there on a charge of venue ordered by Judge Sherwood. The plaintiffs confined their motion to one asking for the right to cross the Missouri

Pacific tracks on Cerre street between Eleventh and Twelfth streets.

For the defendants Prof. Edmund J. James, Messrs. Priest, Phelps and Porte argued that the change of the demand altered the original character of the suit.

Mr. James, John G. Chandler and

James Steuron were appointed.

The Merchants' Terminal people are jubilant over the result and consider the battle more

proper solution of this question, and they are the agriculturists or those who claim to represent them. They assert that the decline of prices of agricultural products began and ended with that of silver, which, from $1,229 per ounce in 1873, ran down to an average of 18¢ cents last year, and they assert that the decline of silver is the cause of the wheat and other farm products, and that if silver were again restored to its value in 1873, these would rise in proportion. They point to the greater prosperity of India since the decline in silver, and claim that the Hindoo peasant, who formerly got 70¢ a bushel for wheat, has last year been getting at the seaboard about a dollar a bushel, which is the cost of his carriage, and in silver, which is the cost of his labor, and that means prosperity for him, while our farmers have been getting in 1889 about 70 cents in gold, instead of a dollar in silver.

I proceed to have heard a lady ask a child whether her father and mother were talking about an animated manner. "Oh," she replied, "money, money; always money!"

She asked me, "What do we go with? Whomsoever we converse, it is always that is the absorbing topic. Perhaps never in the world's history was it so much so as now; most sought for, and its pursuit the great object of life for the entire civilized world. The merchant in his store, the banker in his land, and even the clergy, seeking a more lucrative call for the exercise of their studies, all seek the golden dollar. The desire of knight errantry, in which the pampered chivalry of the world went forth to do battle with the forces of darkness, and from persecution or peril to help the weak against the strong, are long since past, and the knightly deeds of those days are buried in oblivion.

The era of religious devotion, when vast numbers of men and women spent their lives in meditation and prayer, seeking a more lucrative call for the exercise of their studies, all seek the golden dollar.
